We are a group of first generation Chinese immigrants in the United States. We built this real time coronavirus/covid-19 tracker for US and Canada to bring more transparency to the public and increase awareness about the global epidemic.

Story behind this tracker

Yu Guo, Ph.D.

Head of Machine Learning Platform,

Normally I don't share personal notes on LinkedIn, but this might be the only exception.

#wuhan, #china, my hometown, has been fighting the #coronavirus2020 epidemic since January. My large extended family and many of my childhood friends are still under mandatory #lockdown. I have just lost an uncle to this disease in February. While I could not do anything for them on the ground, I really wanted to help in some way.

Here's how: We hope to bring more transparency to the public and increase awareness about this global epidemic. So we built a real time tracker for US and Canada (<https://lnkd.in/gZcpYFb>), by burning some midnight (and weekend) oil. We have received 10 million visits in the last 7 days, and tons of positive feedback from online communities. (<https://lnkd.in/gZbJ-J3>)

We'd like to thank the engineers from 1Point3Acres on this extended hackathon, the group of volunteers fact checking day and night to bring accurate information, and the huge community of supporters giving us feedback, news leads, and cups of boba tea.

We will keep up the effort. Please support us by sharing with your friends. While it's been a fun journey, we hope the #covid19 #epidemic ends soon and our tracker stops incrementing.

FAQ

How are you able to update day and night?

One of our team members is currently in China. The time difference works in our favor!

Where does your data come from?

We have a mix of data crawlers, API calls, and user submissions. Our data team then jumps in and fact check, cross referencing difference sources, de-dup and make sure we present the most accurate data from credible sources.

Who are the engineers?

All five of us were born in China, four pursued graduate studies in the US. Two are on H1b work visa, two are permanent residents, one currently in China.

Who are the data team?

See their information below. Most are students, postdocs, scientists, and professionals who study/work in the US. Most if not all of them were born in China, and came to the US on a student visa.
